ATHLETIC FIELD

The high school athletic field is located behind the Johns Hill Junior High School at the corner of Johns Avenue and Jasper Street. Much has been done to improve the field during the last few years. The field house is most modern and adequate Concrete bleechers have been placed on one side of the field. This year a lighting system was arranged that made it possible for some of the football games to be played at night

Frincipal of High School

R.C. Sayre

We are living in a world of law and order, not in a world of caprice. We are here to discover what these laws are that we can escape the results of error Fortunate are those of us who learn this truth early so that we can live a well ordered life of contentment and happiness.

Assistant Principal

Happiness comes with service and achievement. The preparation which you receive in high school should serve as a means to a more complete development of your abilities and talents and to a realization of your ambitions. It should serve as a basis for a more intelligent participation in the many activities of your community.

MR. DWIGHT YORK

ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Mr. Dwight York has been acting as assistant to Mr. Harris during the school year 1936 and 1937. Mr. York was superintendent of schools in Shelbyville, Illinois. He is working for his doctorate at the University of Illinois

Mr. York has been directly concerned with the high school in at least four projects. The first of these was accident prevention among the pupils in the Decatur schools. Early last fall special attention was directed toward safety in bicycle traffic. While many of Decatur's bicycle riders attend grade and junior high schools, there are also many in the senior high school. Through home room teachers these high school students were given pamphlets containing simple rules for bicycle riders. Throughout the school year Mr. York has posted bulletins in the first floor corridors of the high school. These bulletins had to do with safety in driving cars.

The second project which has been under Mr. York's management is of great importance to all future students of the high school. Here-tofore, there has been too great a difference between high school and junior high school activities as well as some overlapping in content of subjects taught. Mr. York is making definite progress in correlating the junior high school with the senior high school. Through committees selected from both senior and junior high schools he has become acquainted with the present teaching material. With the help of these teacher groups he is planning to revise, and in a few cases to replan, the courses offered. This work should result in an improved school system

Of great interest to both high school students and teachers is the work Mr. York has been doing in regard to the curriculum of the high school. While this project overlaps the second one somewhat, it deserves special consideration. For several years the worth of some courses in the high school has been questioned Many people are in favor of industrial and commercial subjects replacing classical subjects. Others feel that a much more severe classical education should be offered in the high school, while technical schools should be maintained for those students not expecting to enter professional work Mr. York has met regularly with his teacher committees to study a revision of the present curriculum in the high school. The primary purpose of these curriculum study groups was to become familiar with what other schools are doing in regard to this matter. Then these various trends and developments in the field of secondary education have been analyzed and evaluated together with their implications for curriculum revision. These committees considered and studied ways of revising our high school curriculum to meet more effectively the needs of good citizenship. Mr. York advises no sudden nor drastic change in the school program but a continuous and gradual revision to conform to the demands of modern living and our rapidly changing society. This means that continued study and redefining of objectives, methods, and curriculum material is necessary

Mr. York's fourth project was a series of ten broadcasts showing classroom and extra curncular activities in the high school. These programs were sent out over WJBL on Friday aftemoons from 2:15 to 2.45. The band and orchestra provided the music necessary for the programs besides affording additional pleasure to the broadcasts. One very interesting high school program was a discussion of physical education. Mr. Kintner and Miss Cruise were interviewed by Mr. York The captains of the basketball, football, and track teams spoke briefly in reply to Mr. York's questioning. These broadcasts have done much to interest the community in the Decatur High School:

Silly B.ll falls in love with Lola, the baby-talk lady. To woo her in a manner worthy of himself he steals his father's evening clothes. As Jane, his sister, had not reached the romantic stage of her brother, she natural ly thinks he is very silly

When Bill's wooings become a nuisance to the neighborhood, his mother takes the evening clothes from Willy's room and has them altered to fit the middle aged form of her husband. Willy thinks he can't call on his beloved unless he has a dress suit. When the other boys call on Lola, who is visiting the Parcher girl, Mr Parcher is driven nearly crazy with the baby-talk that drifts up to his window

A boy with a new car, money, and a "line' comes to town and starts to court Lola. Poor Willy practically fumes with jealousy. The competition is close. When it comes to Lola's good-bye dance, not to be present is unendurable. Since Willy had not intended to be present because he had no dress suit, he has not signed for any dances with Lola. How William Sylvanus again gets the dress suit, and how the negro servant, Genesis, discloses the fact that the proud garments are really his father's are some of the elements in this charming comedy of youth. After Lola leaves, Willy snaps out of his love sick mood and decides to go to college

The small picture is of Miss Edna Robertson, director of the play and faculty adviser of Thalia. Miss Robertson introduced a novel bit of advertising with this play Members of the club distributed paper book covers to all of the students. On the covers were printed the name of the play, the author's name, the cast, and the members of Thalia.

While Mr. and Mrs. Dangerfield are traveling in Europe, their four children discover that their funds are depleted. In order not to worry their father, who is in poor health, they plan to rent their home to a northern man for the sum of $5,000. The northerner, Burton Crane, stipulates that only white servants are to be accepted with the house. After much difficulty, four servants are employed and asked to start work the morning of the same day that Burton Crane and his guests are scheduled to arrive. On this day word is sent that the white servants are not coming. What a situation the Dangerfield children are int. They must rent the home at all costs. Olivia, the youngest daughter, conceives the idea that the four Dangerfield enter the roles of the white servants. Paul becomes Smithfield, the butler, even though he claims he does not know how to buttle Charlie becomes the handy-boy, Elizabeth is the maid who has never made a bed, and Olivia takes the part of the cook, Jane Ellen. Many humorous situation arise when four spoiled children who have been taught nothing concerning work, attempt to serve the northern family

Catastrophe faces the Dangerfields when at the end of the third day Crane is not pleased with the servant problem. Amanda, Olivia's black mammy, attempts to help Jane Ellen in the kitchen. All ends happily at the end of the third act when a letter arrives from Mr. and Mrs. Dangerfield saying that they are coming home Crane, who is ready to leave with his guests for the north, falls in love with lane Ellen and, thus, she comes out of the kitchen cabinets of periodicals is a necessary part of every English student's life. The magazines furnish current information for assignments and also entertainment for leisure reading. The reference, reserve, and free reading books afford special enrichment and research opportunities for those who wish to explore beyond the text book. This varied collection of reading makes the library a popular spot for preparing oral reports and themes. The librarian's desk in the picture shows a group of high school students rowing books. LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

Latin, French, and Spanish are offered in the senior high school For students enrolled in the Liberal Arts course two years of one of these languages are required Those students studying for one of the professions or those interested in scientific studies usually elect more languages. Both M.ss Larrimore, who teaches French, and Miss Carroll, who teaches Spanish, have studied abroad

Miss Carroll's Spanish 4 class planned the costume picture above. The background for the group is the Spanish bulletin board. This board is always a center of interest because Miss Carroll has many foreign pictures to exhibit. The beautiful lady in shawl, comb, and mantila is Faye Douglas. Jim Worsham in hat and zarape adds the masculine touch to the picture. Frances Jane Carey is next to him with her large fan unfurled. Marian Grove is the other lady. Her fan is open also and her eyare modestly lowered. Maybe this modest pose is an old Spanish custom. Miss Carroll brought all of the properties from Spain or Mexico.

To any one who has ever studied Latin the map below awakens memories. Who, besides translating pages of accounts of Caesar's wars, has not traced his militant activities upon this map? Then there was his famous bridge. The location of this structure makes a fitting climax to the struggle with the technical terms necessary in translating its description. In the picture Burnham Walraven points to the spot where Caesar is busy meeting the Helvetians. Betty Meisenhelter checks this location from her text book. Virginia Perjohne looks on with real interest. The picture was made in Miss Foran's room. The students are from a Latin 4 class

The travel picture below was posed by people from Miss Larimore's French 3 class. Ted Dawson is pointing out the advantages of the French liner "Normandie." If this boat does not suit his customers, he has other literature on his counter which describes more simple ones. He can trace interesting tours through France on his large map and supply books on how to act in this intriguing country. Ruth Gates has come with her French journal under her arm and her little bag ready should she leave at once Toola Karelas has her big suit case with her. She must be going too

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

To students wishing to major in mathematics as a basis for future study in science or engineering, the high school offers an adequate course. Four semesters of algebra are taught three of geometry, and one of trigonometry.

In this first picture there are three students from one of Miss Martin's trigonometry classes. They are out of doors during school hours which makes even mathematics sound tempting. Helen Hanson appears to be sighting Bill. White through a tiny telescope but she is really making ready to set her transit in line with the top of Frede's garage. Then Bill will help her by walking out of the picture with his long pole. He will adjust the little circle so that Helen's telescope, the aperture in the circle, and the top of the garage will be in the same line. Meanwhile Terry Newkirk will measure from the base of the plumb line to the foundation of the garage.

The next picture is taken from Miss Fischers' class in Algebra 3. It simply illustrates how much mathematics can teach you Sarah Him ton has lettered upon the blackboard a proof that you are as old as Methuselah. She stands between the two boys while Mary Adele McMillen points to the first equation. Eugene Clark, who stands next to the board, seems to believe that a good proof makes a state ment true. It is going to take more than algebra to fool Wilbur Amman, who looks ready to tear the proof apart as soon as it is his turn

The bottom picture shows Edwin Allen and Billy Kennedy at either end of a desk loaded with solid geometry models. Lois Halliday stands behind the desk and shows a very complicated model to Catherine Grabb Charles Dodson looks at his selection all by himself. Ted Allsup is not interested in the models. He is deeply concerned in helping Heston Booker understand the day's lesson. All of these students come from Miss Robert's first hour solid geometry class.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

A calculating machine is one for the performance of mathematical operations. These machines are juch used in modern offices. Virgil Kuns, who was graduated in January, received a position immediately because of his ability to use a calculator. In the picture Roxie Witts and Billy Jean Falloon stand behind the first machine which is being run by Mary White. Evelyn Hanley is holding a book for June Osborne who operates the second machine. J. R. Cressler stands in the background and does a little checking without mechanical aid.

MANUAL ARTS DEPARTMENT

Until the new addition was opened in February, both manual training and mechanical drawing classes had been held in the remodeled car barns more than a block east of the high school. Now the department occupies almost the whole of the new additions basement. The manual training shop consists of a huge L shaped room with a smaller room adjoining for special supplies. The long part of the room is equipped with individual benches. The shorter part of the room gives space to special saws, lathes, and similar equipment. This apparatus is electrically driven and most modern and efficient. There is ample room for making and assembling large pieces of furniture. Mr. Shaffer, in structor in manual training, is known through out the country for his boat building ability. He is also a recognized cabinet maker

The second picture is from Mr. Birkhead's drawing room. The group about the table is examining an architect's blue print. The two girls in the picture are Sarah Hinton and Joda McGaughey. There are very few girls enrolled in the mechanical drawing department. The boy in the center of the scene is Jack Holloway. The two boys beside the model of the house are Robert Maxwell and James Hall. The boy at the other end of the table is Richard Marchman. The students in this department stand at high desks to do their work. Their drawing equipment is that of a modern in its man and their finished work is almost

Their duties have been to sell advertising, arrange copy of it, and to collect from the advertisions, but subscriptions, collect small payments upon these obscriptions, and deliver receipts to the subscribers; and to arrange for the distribution of the book. They also managed a magazine campaign in the late fall and helped to promote the Decanois dance in November. While each one on the staff was appointed for some special duty, all have worked with each other to make the Decanois self supporting. Never has a staff of students sold as much advertising for the Decanois and never has a staff turned in more subscriptions.

In the second picture Bernice Young, junior assistant art editor, is seated and looking over some work Carolyn Schlie is showing her. Both girls worked in Summer School planning the theme or motif to be used in the art work, the medium, and the style. A strong technique in paint values in contrast to the light pen and ink drawings used in the 1936 book was chosen. This heavier work harmonizes with the 1937 theme, "Symbolism" Also a dark rich cover was selected as suitable for this work just as the antique white cover harmonized with the art work las year.

Bernice Young also planned most of the arrangements for the printed pages with the photographs. Joda McGaughey, who helped with this work, is seen seated and working on a layout Jack Lewis. Decanois poster artist, is holding one of his posters

The snapshot editors, Edylene Gilly, Bernice Young, Maxine Wilson, Sarah Hinton, and Betty Morrow, are shown in the third picture cutting mounts, selecting and trim ming them, arranging, fitting, and pasting them on the mounts and then planning captions to print by them. #### OBSERVER MOVIES

On April 16 the annual Observer movies were snown for the students of the Decatur High School Two auditorium periods, each one hour long, were used to accommodate the pupils and the teachers eager to see themselves in the movies Tickets for the snow were ten cents each. "Salmagundi" was the title given to the production this year

Salmagundi," which means a miscellany, was planned to include as many members of the school as pos sible. Views of a senior class meeting, showing Presi dent Rotz and Miss Foran, included many of the se miors. A junior meeting and a sophomore meeting rev.ewed important business for the under classmen Then the seniors at their Christmas party was off set by the junior dance and that most successful social event in years, the sophomore party. Football returned in a vividly chilly scene from the Springfield-Decatur game. Basketball, as usual, offered plenty of interesting memories. Each member of the squad entering the state finals was shown Captain Park, who really needs no help to remain in the memory of every D H. S. fan, was featured in the play that made Decatur amous. The presentation of the basketball trophy in the auditorium revived pride in that second place in the State. For hundred of the lesser lights the walk from the high school to the armory for a pep meeting gave an opportunity to flicker on the screen The school day showing students entering the building going to lunch, and leaving after the day's session offered room for pictures of many more students. The new addition, which has added much to the school's accommodations, was exhibited from the breaking of ground for the building until the addition was ready for use. An airplane view of the school showed what a large spot Decatur High School makes in the center of the city Scenes from some of the class room activities illustrated daily routine. The chemistry laboratory without its famous smells, the art department reviewing their poster artists, the sewing classes in their handsome new apartment, and foods classes setting a table and serving a meal were shown. The music department was represented by scenes from the beautiful vesper service and from the opera, 'Sweethearts." The opera was cleverly produced in color, as was the scene from the sewing classes Dramatics were advertised through Thalia's fall production, "Seventeen," and the mid year class play, "Come Out of the Kitchen" An interesting picture showed Patsy Wolfhope and Billy Howenstine, co-editors of the Observer, with the first editor of the Observer, Wayne Williams, Mr. Williams paid a visit to his old home last fall and spoke in the auditorium. Among other bits of school life snown were scenes from one of Tri-Y's famous penny pot-lucks

The movies were taken by Stanley Threlfall, Roger Pease, and Hilmer Landholt under the direction and supervision of Mr. Taylor. Mr Taylor, a member of the commercial department faculty, is director of visual aids in the high school. Billy Howenstine, Patsy Wolfhope, Lee Moorehead, Miss Hambright, and Mr. Abell helped in choosing and arranging the film. Lee Moorehead gave an introduction and made very entertaining explanations during the showing of the films Janet Dickey played the piano

• DELTA-SCHOLASTIC EXCELLENCE • D - ATHLETIC AWARDS

Decatur High School has always placed honors in scholarship higher than honors in any other school activity. For many years of the school's history the only honor awarded at commencement time was a scholarship to some university or college. The member of the class with the highest average received this honor Within the last twenty years recognition has been given by the school to all of the students in the graduating class who have maintained an average of 94 or above during their three years in senior high school. Gold pins in the form of a delta are awarded such students at commencement. In order to increase interest in scholarship among the underclassmen, the school board awards silver deltas to all members of the class who, at the end of their junior year, have maintained an average of 94 in their studies. The silver delta group from last spring who are not in the picture include Dorothy Allen, Sarah Hinton, Lois Mackey, Pauline Ritchie, Mary Louise Ro Dorothy Serak, Helen Shippy, Annabelle Thomalla, Inabelle Trueblood, William White, Ed win Bell, Warren Osborne, Sarah Whitney and Paul Koslofski. The silver deltas were presented to the juniors at an honor auditorium held late in May. Besides requiring a 94 average for this honor the school also requires four semesters of senior high school attendance. Two exceptions are made, however, in regard to attendance. The first exception is made when, by extra work each semester or by work in summer school, the applicant has sufficient credits and units for admission to the senior class the following semester. The second exception had to be made when most of the sophomores were held in junior high school because of crowded conditions in senior high school. This semester of the sophomore year is counted as though it had taken place in senior high school

Since Mr. Sayre has been principal of the Decatur High School, an annual honor day auditorium has been held. Mr. Sayre's idea in promoting such an activity is to encourage all students to improve their scholarship averages. Two kinds of certificates are issued at these yearly meetings. High honor certificates are given to all students in the high school who have reached a 94-98 average for the school year. Honor certificates are granted to those with a 90-94 average from the heads of the departments and principal as well as a high scholastic average

SCHOLARSHIP AWARD

After the valedictorian has been chosen by the faculty, the senior class nominates from the remaining members of the class students who might well represent the class as salutatorian at commencement. Then the class elects one of these nominees by means of a written ballot. The mid-year class of 1937 elected Mildred Grace Johnson for salutationan. This is the greatest honor which can be given to one of the members of a class by his classmates.

Mildred Johnson was a splendid student during her whole high school life. She was a member of the scholastic committee of her sophomore class in 1934. She received honor certificates in 1935 and 1936. At the end of her junior year she received a silver delta and at mid-year commencement she was one of the members of her class to receive a gold delta

Besides maintaining her high average in scholarship, Mildred took an active part in school affairs. She was a member of the Observer staff as a special reporter during her junior and senior years. She also took part in musical activities. As a member of junior glee club, she sang in the Christmas vesper services

HONORS

MID-YEAR CLASS HONORS

One of the highest honors that can be bestowed upon any girl or boy of the graduating class is that of being chosen valedictorian or salutatorian. The faculty chooses the valedictorian, basing their choice upon scholastic ability, interest in school activities, loyal support of the school, and proper attitude to instructors. The class elects the salutatorian

This year Vivian LaVerne Gould was valedictorian. She has made honor grades throughout her high school career, making the highest record She did not take an active part in outside clubs or activities, but instead gave her time to her school work and received Honor Certificates in '35 and '36 and both a silver and gold Delta She was named valedictorian as a reward for her steadfastness. The subject of the valedictory additional activities and the valedictory additional activities are valedictorial activities.

Vivian also received the scholarship to James Millikin University for one year which is offered to one of the members of each graduating class of Decatur High School. This person receiving the scholarship must have a high recommendation

JUNE CLASS HONORS

At a faculty meeting held April 12 Annie Harp was chosen valedictorian of the June senior class From a list of over thirty students holding high honor averages in scholarship Annie was selected because of the service she has given to her class and to the school. Her activities were divided among music, dramatics, literary society, and publications. As a member of Glee club she appeared in the opera 'Sweethearts, early in the spring. She was a charter member of Thalia and played in productions given by this society. She was a member of Aristos and has served that society in many capacities. She represented Aristos in the oration entry when the inter society contest was held this year. In 1936 she held a junior position on the Decanois staff. In her senior year she served the Decanois as one of the most dependable members of the business staff. #### SALUTATORIAN JIMMIE WEATHERFORD

It is a second to the second the names of all the high honor seniors except that of the valedictorian. This has been a custom of the school for some time as students high in scholarship usually prepare better addresses for the commencement program. Some discussion of the candidates was held. The purpose of these discussions was to acquaint the members of the class with the speaking ability of each candidate as well as to voice other desirable traits of the candidates for this much desired honor. The class then voted upon the students nominated. This eliminated all but two from the list. These two were then voted upon by closed ballot on the morning of April 15. James Weatherford won this ballot from Richard Foster

Besides his high scholastic average which has mented him a silver delta, Jimmie has been an active member of his class. He has been a member of the social committee during the year and has served as a dues collector. His good nature and pleasure in all fun made him a success in both positions. He has been a member of Rotaro literary society

For over forty years Miss Mary W. French was a teacher in the Decatur High School One year after the present building was completed she resigned from the acculty. The following winter she notified the Board of Education of her contribution to all Decatur High School graduating classes of the future. She had placed one thousand dollars at interest Each year the interest accrued was to be di vided between two members of the graduating class, three fiths to one and two fiths to the other. A committee composed of the heads of departments and the principal were to select two pupils from the class to receive the money The selection was to be based upon the following points: a proper attitude toward the administrative policy of the school, a proper attitude toward instructors, a good grade of scholarship, an interest in school activities, membership in one of the literary socities. Any pupil who had been a member of the class for two years was to be eligible

Miss French lived to see many young people monored by her gift. She rarely missed attending the graduating exercises in June when the awards were made. Many of the boys and girls honored were children or grandchildren of her former pupils Perhaps she preferred that her gift be so closely associated with her ormer pupils. She seemed to be able to recall anyone whom she had ever taught and to remember incidents of amusing quality about their mutual relationship. Miss French died in 1933, one of Decatur's truly great persons

From the June class of 1937 Dorothy Allen was selected by the committee as most closely fulfilling the requirements designated by Miss French. Dorothy is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay M Allen. Her sister, Margaret, received this same award in the class of 1936 Dorothy has maintained a high scholarship average, receiving a silver delta at the end of her junior year and being a candidate for a gold delta at commencement. She has been a member of Aristos, Thalia, La Alianza, Espanol, and Glee Club. She served on the Observer staff until her senior year when she became June class editor of the Decanois. She will receive the first Mary W. French award

Hubert Magill, son of Dr. and Mrs. Ansel O Magill, was chosen to receive the second French award Hubert also received a silver delta for scholarship and is a candidate for a gold delta. He has been a member of Senior Glee Club and A Capella Choir. As a member of these musical groups he has appeared in special chorus work as well as the opera, "Sweethearts." He has been a member of Thalia and had a part in "Growing Pains," produced by that society last year. He has served the Observer as sports editor during his senior year. He was a member of Forum literary society and of Chess club.

IDA K. MARTIN CONTEST

In 1920 Miss Ida K Martin left a fund to the Decatur High School which permits two thirty dollar prizes to be given annually. In order to receive one of these awards the contestants must be a member of either the mid year or June graduating class Winners of the Lincoin essay contest can not compete. The contestant is judged first upon an original patriotic essay of not more than one thousand words Then the essay is memorized and delivered before competent judges. Next, a citizenship rating for the entrant is determined by averaging grades given him by the taculty members The essay, delivery, and citizenship average determine the contestant's final standing. One of the awards goes to a boy and one to a girl. The winners deliver their addresses at a Memorial Day program but the awards are not given until the June Commencement

The winners of last year's Ida K Martin contest were Joan Walraven and Charles Livingston. This year the winners were Patsy

Each year one girl is chosen from the senior class to receive the D. A. R citizenship award. From a group of three girls nominated and voted upon by the senior class one is selected by a faculty committee. The selection is based upon dependability, service, leadership, and patrionsm. Dorothy Allen was one of the three chosen by the senior class this year and the one selected by the faculty for the award.

From over three hundred similarly selected Illinois high school gitts one is selected by lot to attend the Daughters of the American Revolution conference in Washington held in the spring Argo's entrant was chosen this year

The Stephen Decatur chapter of D. A. R gave the winners of this district awards in recognition of their selection for the state contest. The high schools of the district are Mt. Zion, Macon, and Decatur.

Mrs. Inez Bender established a fund with the board of education to maintain two patriotic awards to be presented at the lune commencement. The contest for these awards is held among the members of the senior class during January, Mrs. Bender gave this jund in honor of her father who was a great admirer of Abraham Lincoln She asked that the following requirements for contestants be maintained. First, only members of the graduating class are to compete. Second, the subsect of each essay submitted for consideration must have to do with Abraham Lincoln. Third each contestant must be judged on the worth of his essay, his delivery of it before competent judges, his citizenship within the school Mrs. Bender, who has recently died, was a member of the board of education for many years She was manager of the local Red Cross and a member of several patriotic groups

This year the Lincoln Essay Contest closed on January 25. The judges for the essay part of the contest were Miss Stapp, Miss Gold inger, and Miss Charlotte Meyer Dawn O dell ranked first in essay among the girls, Patsy Wolfhope was second and Helen Ashley and Dorothy Kuhns tied for third place Lee Moorehead ranked first among the boys, Hubert Magill and Edgar Livingston tied for second place, and Warren Osborne placed third

All of the teachers were asked to grade the contestants on citizenship. These grades were averaged with the help of Miss Parker, who tabulated the results after using the adding

HERALD REVIEW STORY CONTEST

HONORS

An airmail poster contest was sponsored last spring by the postal officials at Washington upon the suggestion of Governor Henry Horner of Illinois. Postmaster James M. Allen of Decatur invited the poster artists of the Decatur High School art classes to enter the contest. Six posters from the high school were sent to the Illinois State Postmasters Convention at Springfield. Over one hundred posters from other Illinois High schools were entered in this contest.

with the work of an experienced and well known artist. Mr. Root sells his paintings for hundreds of dollars. Postmaster Allen was so pleased with the decision of the judges that he sent a telegram to Mr. Sayre, saying, "Rex Smith wins first place in amateur, second in sweepstakes."

All of the entries in the contest were on exhibit in the Orlando Hotel during a postal convention. Then the group was moved to the lobby of the new postoffice for several weeks. The public was invited to inspect them during this time. Next they were hung at the Decatur Art Institute with other high school art work for people especially interested in art and in the schools to see.

Later Mr. Allen sent Rexis prize winning poster to the National Convention of Postmasters at Cleveland where it was exhibited for a month Then it was sent to the postal department at Washington, From there it was sent to Pittsburgh and to St. Paul for other exhibits. #### DECANOIS ART EDITOR

The highest honor which can be conferred upon a student of the Art Department is to be made art editor of the Decanois. Carolyn Schlie received this award for the 1937 Decanois. Last year Carolyn served the Decanois as co-art editor with Winifred Dilier. This year Bernice Young has planned page layouts and assisted Carolyn in many ways but the actual art work for the book is Carolyn's own Besides preparing the three-tone division sheets and incidental plates. Carolyn has done quantities of hand lettering. This is tedious work and required hours of patient labor. The rich quality of hand lettering cannot be duplicated by the most skillful commercial printer Carolyn is shown in this picture with some of her Decanois work mounted on the bulletin board

ASSOCIATION POSTER CONTEST

In its effort to arouse the interest of the general public, especially that of the governor of Illinois and of other state officials, in the lack of much needed funds for public schools and in the absence of any state funds for high schools, the Illinois Educational Association sponsored an essay and also a poster contest during the American Education week. The subject was, naturally, "Additional State Support of the Public Schools" Mr. Dwight York, assistant superintendent of schools, had charge of the local contests

Several posters were entered in the poster contest from the Art Department of the high school A.I were designed in the high school colors of bright red and white Black lettering upon these posters made a very attractive display. Each carried a convincing message. No two had the same slogan or idea of decoration. After the posters were completed, they were displayed in down town stores, then sent to the contest

It was most difficult for the committee to decide just which poster to send to the state contest. Mr Harris, Mr. Sayre, and Mr. York acted upon this committee. They selected Charles Whitaker's poster as the best. The design on this poster was a drawing of a large modern school. The slogan was "Illinois Can Afford Good Schools"

After the state of the state of the places of interest in the capital or to attend the movies or to do anything else he wished. Like all notables he was photographed several times. The picture on this page is one of these photographs

The only duty Charles had in Springfield was to visit one of the meetings of the teachers of the state to make a short speech in the interest of his subject and to deliver his poster to Governor Horner. According to Miss Margaret Roach, principal of Roach School, he did this in a commendable way. She took a kindly interest in Charles during his visit.

The Illinois Education Association used Charles' poster in the cover design of their January journal. The picture of the journal is shown. In this number of the magazine there is an article describing the cover and a second article about Charles winning the poster contest. His picture is included in the second article. Since nearly every teacher in the state of Illinois receives this magazine and many who are not teachers read it. Charles has had a great deal of publicity

Probably the most enjoyed activity of the year is the Big Twelve Festival at Peoria, Illinois. This year, Mr. Max Krone, well known composer and conductor, directed a chorus of approximately nine hundred voices, of which the choir was a part. Some of the numbers used in the Festival were "The Irish Girl," by Dan Malin, "Hoodah Day" by Chamtee, sung by boys, "Mayday Carol," an English folk song arranged by Deems Taylor, "Moon Mar keting," by Weaver, sung by the girls, and Nına," a Russian folk song sung by the mixed group. The a cappella choir sang both "Moon Marketing" and "Nına" on their concert last year

Although the choir has accomplished an exceptional piece of work by itself, it has done equally well combined with the glee clubs in presenting the Christmas Vespers, and the light opera, "Sweethearts" by Victor Herbert. Some of the occasions for which the choir has sung lude a peace pageant at the First Methodist Church, a Christmas pageant at the First M E and a vesper service for the Busine Profit Peace and Woman's Club

Mariel Odor and Dudley Davidson were presidents of the choir for the first and second semesters, respectively. Vice president for the tirst semester was Dudley Davidson, succeeded by Barbara Lyon for the second semester. The two secretaries for the year were Maria Karelas and Dorothy Allen. Their job was to keep the daily attendance of the members Roger Pease was treasurer of the choir for both semesters. The pianist for the choir was fuanita Russell.

The Junior Art League was organized in November 1912. It was given this name because it grew out of a senior organization, the Decatur Art Institute The club is under the supervision of Mrs. Maude Meyer To be eligible for membership a student must be a member of an art class or have been enrolled in an art class. The purpose of the club is to develop an appreciation of beauty, to increase interest in fine arts and crafts in school and community, and to provide an opportunity for students interested in art to meet · i scial group. The club meets Wednesday after noons the eighth hour in the art room

As objectives for some of the meeting: this year the club attended the Art Institute. Here the pictures were studied and sketched or a gallery talk was heard. All of the exhibits hung in the Art Institute were viewed by Junior Art League. At other meetings individual art projects were carried on. Some of these were hobby scrap books, soapcarving, cartooning, or favor making

This year the club gave three dances which were socially and financially great successes. Part of the club's meeting time was spent in making plans for these affairs

Part of the money from these dances was spent in procuring a mirror for the art room. In April a party was given by the club for its members and their friends at the Armory. The committee in charge of this party was Bernice Young, Carolyn Schlie, Margaret Westervelt, Garlin Snaw, Rex Chappel, and Willard Ray

The officers for Junior Art League first semester were Carolyn Schlie, president, Bernice Young, vice president, lack Vandervoort, secretary, Betty Morrow, treasurer; Josie Skelley, press reporter; Edylene Gilly and Jua nita Freeman, sergeants-at-arms. For anyone who enjoys competition, exchange of opinions, and contact of new ide: Debate Club is the activity that affords the greatest interest. This club is a medium for wide reading and reliable, worthwhile

The Debate Club began its fall term by electing officers for the first semester and selecting new members. The organization consists of ten active members Many candidates offered themselves for auditions. Only those making favorable speeches were chosen

The first semester was spent in studying forms and in class debates. The question of sales tax was discussed with the Oxford style of debate used. Each member presented his views in a five minute speech and for five minutes more answered any questions that were asked. Material was received from Mr. Yor-the assistant superintendent of schools, concerning the debate question, "Resolved that the state government should give material aid to all public high schools of the state.

During the second semester actual debates took place. This year the teams were composed of two negative members and two affirmative members. The constructive speeches were ten minutes long instead of eight and rebuttals were five minutes long instead of three. The negative team composed of LaVon Townsend and Otto Keil went to Macon on March 23 to debate the national debate question: 'Resolved that all electric utilities should be governmentally owned and operated." The Girl Scout troop of the Decatur High School was organized in the fall of 1933. This year the troop, observed the twenty-fifth anniversary of the National Association of Girl Scouts by presenting a pageant at the annual Girl Scout Banquet

To open the fall activities of the troop, a swim and steak fry was held at Nelson Park. On October 3 they went in a group to the foot ball game at the University of Illinois. At the end of October a Halloween party was held at the home of Druanne Davis.

Ail Girl Scout troops in Decatur studied for eign countries during November and December. Troop 3, the high school troop, chose Jugo slavia to study Besides becoming acquainted with the history, customs, and dress of this country, they read "Native's Return" by Louis Adamic Handicraft in beads and leather was one of the troops projects Others worked with wood carving Druanne Davis, Ruth Yakel, and Margery Duff attended a Girl Scout Camp last summer Miss Dorothy Cruise, heutenant of the group, spent last summer at Juniper Knoll Camp in Wisconsin

The second annual Yule Log Hunt was held on December 19. The responsibility for the success of this activity rested upon the troop rather than upon the Scout executives as it did last year

The activities of the troop are directed through the patrol system and the Court of Honor, which is made up of the patrol leades, the captain, and the heutenant. A Court of Honor meeting is held once each month

Janet Dickey, Ruth Yakel, and Kathryn Lang were elected patrol leaders for this year. The corporals were Ruth Adams, Helen Baits, and Marjone Duff Druanne Davis wastreasurer and Olive Craig acted as scribe Miss Charlotte Meyer is captain and Miss Cruise is Lieutenant

THE RESERVES

The Decatur High School Reserves are coached by Francis White, also coach of the track team

The Reserves opened their season against Hammond at the D H S field on September 12. This debut ended in a 0 to 0 tie

On September 19, Kincard High School defeated our Reds 13-0 for the only losing game our Reds played

Diversion High School was defeated 15-0 on September 25. Coach White's eleven made its first score in the first period and again late in the last quarter

A lone counter in the fourth period accounted for the victory over Stonington on October 2 The game was played on fairly even terms as each team had three first downs to its credit. The Red Reserves completed two out of seven passes while the Stonington gridders were successful in but one of four attempts

Although the Decatur High Reserves' playing was not up to par, they were able to defeat Taylorville High's eleven 7-6, October 16, at Taylorville Taylorville had a temporary lead which the Reds couldn't overcome for three quarters, but a 30 yard run by Hazenfield evened up the score. A left end dash gave Decatur the extra point and the game.

The Champaign "B" squad was handed a 20-0 defeat on October 23

The Reserves closed their 1936 football season on November 5 by defeating Blue Mound 13-0 Six of the boys, Broyer, Dehonty, Creager, Foster, Shaffer, and Sclozer, were advanced to the first sauad and the rest of the team was disbanded

Miss Foran announced today in 320 that boys and girls cannot share lockers. How about it, H Wilson and W Flora?

Friday, September 11

Looks like Rex Mittikin, our new football coach, is starting us out right on top. Decatur beat West Frankfort 6-0 tonight

Monday, September 14

Me thinks they ought to let us out of school until this 100° weather slows down a bit—down to 40° or so All the better for studying 'n' everything (???)

Tuesday, September 15

Did you know that we have two lamous musicians in our midst? They call themselves Mozart and Schubert Bob Kruzan and Tom Scanlon, respectively. I wonder if Miss Pease thinks that their harmony lessons are worthy of their names?

Wednesday, September 16

It turned cool!! And now we're wondering just why it had to happen today, cause classes were all going to be cut and school dismissed early cause it was so hot. What a pal, Weather Man!!

Thursday, September 17

Miss Foran ought to go to the public library some night after assigning a lesson on a lamous poet. Actually the place is swarmed with students mumbling something about Whitman or Dickinson. It's too pitiful!

Friday, September 18

Our Reds topped Mattoon tonight, 70 Hope this keeps up'

Monday, September 21

Bud Davidson and Eva Lee Clayton seem to have much in common in 320 lust what is it?

Tuesday, September 22

That Leonard Ritchards is always annoying the gais in 320. If he doesn't have a jar full of grasshoppers, (which he accidentally lets escape) he starts chewing some of those awful sme..ing cough drops. What a life!

Wednesday, September 23

Something must be done about all of these charble bachelors running around our fair school. F'r instance, Bill Draper, Roger Brank, Bill Snider, and Roger Pease Come on, Girls<sup>1</sup>

Thursday, September 24

Us June-Seniors had a meeting this morning And what a meeting! All packed into 320, (old 322 made short) two in a seat, standing along the walls, and hanging from the ceiling. It lasted exactly four minutes.

Friday. September 25

Rotaro sponsored a dime dance in the gym tonight. And did Maderia ever get mad when John left her right in the middle of the floor.

Monday, September 28

Of the funniest thing happened today! Ruth Flynn come to school this morning with the ce-cotest brown plaid wool dress on. Everyone was turning green with envy when Maria Karelas walked in with a dress exactly like it. Wasn't that a co-incidence, though?

Tuesday, September 29

All thousands of us piled out of the mausoleum today in the fresh air. But it was just a fire drill and it only took five minutes off of classes. Some wise souls waited 'till everyone else was in, so they would be gone longer. What brains!

Wednesday, December 9

Another fatal day-report cards Oh well well not dwell on that

Mr Lauren Brown, educational director of the investors Syndicate of Chicago, spoke in an assembly the sixth hour today on "Money and Money Management"

Thursday, December 10

Those handsome football boys modestly accepted their letters awarded to them in an auditorium this morning. Mr. Lawrence Rotz, a former D.H.S. coach, was the principle speaker.

Friday, December 11

Whee! What an exciting day! The news that we've all been waiting for popped out this morning—King Edward abdicated the English throne for his lady-love

Shiny new fire wagons congregated in front of school during sixth hour, and we all rush to the windows to watch Wolfe's back yard burn

And last—this is heart breaking—B.oomington beat us 28 25 tonight after an ultra exciting game

Friday, December 18

One of the loveliest programs of the year was presented to a group of students this morning—the Christmas Vespers

Aren't the posters about the Yuletide Dance to be given by Thalia simply beautious?

Monday, December 21

Judging Irom report being carried around, the Senior Party Saturday night was a great success. Guess everyone tound out who Sid Rotz had asked two months ahead of time. That's O.K., Sidi "The early bird gets the worm."

Tuesday, December 22

To think we are still going to school (in all outward appearances) while everyone else is trooping home from college. It is sure swell to see them ground the old haunts. The unswell part is—they re free!

Wednesday, December 23

There is some doubt as to whether school was or wasn't today. Classes were half filled, Glee Clubs gave their last Vespers to a rather small auditorium and lots of good souls that did come in the morning got headaches (??) and went home at them.

Another department in D H S has been modernized. The sewing room is now equipped with new sewing machines, ironing boards, and fitting rooms "Bardy" Lyon says they're swell.

Friday, March 5

Things really happened today. This morning there was a big pep meeting over at the armory From 3.40 to 5.00 the seniors had a free dance in 331, and tonight lots of peoples went up to Clinton to watch us beat Mt. Zion 37 to 27

Monday, March 8

Oh boy! We got Clinton 26 to 16 Saturday night That oughta call for another pep meeting (and more cut hours)

Tuesday, March 9

Does that Lyon girl ever slay 'emil One glance and the next thing they do is ask her name Dale Shaffer certainly finds her urresistible

Wednesday, March 10

If we weren't so sure this was D H S we might think it was a hospital what with the Lysol disinfectant being put all over desks in things. They say it's a preventative for scarlet fever II its aroma has anything to do with it, it oughts be a good

Thursday, March 11

Ant Today's the day Mins Carroll leaves at 230 to go to a meeting of some sort. Dalo Lawler and Jim Worsham have the days all figured out so they won't have to get their Spanish on those days.

Friday, March 12

Not very many went to the pep meeting during the eighth hour Maybe they went home to catch a few winks of sleep they lost at Ted Weems last night Very likely

Monday, March 15

Little Elizabeth Ann Le Marr joined the ranks of the faculty today. The proud papa was all smiles, and probably every one of his students got an ""

Tuesday, March 16

Miss Drobisch earned the dandelions last week end She got her dates mixed up and arrived at school Friday all prepared to see the operatio. Telling it later—"And Miss Pease, the building was all dark!"

This is the fatal day that Curly Baker turns twenty years old and leaves the team. You're going to be missed a lot, Curly

Wednesday, March 17

Mutiny is brewing in the operate cast for the simple reason that everyone wants to be at Champaign watching the boys play in the tournament That team means an awful lot to everyone

Thursday, March 18

I wonder what the cast will think when they find out that they stayed until 6:30 tonite having Observer movies taken with a camera without any film. When they finally got away, almost everyone flashed over to Champaign to see the Reds defeat LaSalle-Peru

Friday, March 19

"Sweethearts" was a great success Aside from Maria Karelas glorious voice and Miss Robertson's and Miss Pease' Directing, the radios in the dressing rooms had a lot to do with it. Who wouldn't be happy after hearing our Reds beat Moline 14 to 11?

Monday, March 22

The whole school honored the team this morning in a double auditorium. Right here and now we want to give our very best to Campbell, Park, Minick Smith Cook, and Wilnams

Tuesday, March 23

Senior meeting this morning about the play. 'Seven Keys to Baldpale" was chosen by the committee Lots of mystery, yells and guns. Sounds good:

Wednesday, March 24

THE REASON WHY

That MOLLOY MADE covers have been used on so many of the nation's leading annuals over a long period of time is testimony to the fact that they really do represent more value.

The Decanois, like many other leading annuals, started using MOLLOY MADE covers away back when"—and the MOLLOY trademark on the cover of this 1937 issue is the best evidence of an eminently satisfactory standard of quality and service throughout the country.
